Drawings

3. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the "the female portion accepts the male portion" as recited in claims 2 and 13 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Claims Rejection Under 35 USC - 112

4. Claims 2-4, 13 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Art Unit: 2873

Claims 2 and 13 are recited "the detent having a male portion and a female portion whereby the female portion accepts the male portion" is unclear, how the female portion accepts the male portion? And there is nowhere in the drawing show that the interrelationship between the female portion and the male portion.

Claims 2-4 are depend on themself.

Claims Rejection Under 35 USC - 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 15-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Mage (5,898,468).

Mage discloses fog-resistant sunglasses incorporating ventilation channels which comprises a front frame which spans across the wearer's face and includes forward and aft sides. The front frame further includes a pair of apertures which are forwardly directed and define ventilation channels for facilitating airflow through the front frame adjacent the lenses and a pair of apertures adjacent the wearer's temple which are circulation of air over the back surfaces of the lenses to resist the fogging thereof.

Claims Rejection Under 35 USC - 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 5-14, 19 and 20 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mage (5,898,468) in view of Bolle' et al (4,934,807).

Mage discloses fog-resistant sunglasses incorporating ventilation channels which comprises a front frame which spans across the wearer's face and includes forward and aft sides. The front frame further includes a pair of apertures which are forwardly directed and define ventilation channels for facilitating airflow through the front frame adjacent the lenses and a pair of apertures adjacent the wearer's temple which are circulation of air over the back surfaces of the lenses to resist the fogging thereof. Mage does not disclose a pad being attached to the inner frame.

Bolle' et al, however, discloses that a pad being attached to the inner frame.

Because Mage and Bolle' et al are both from the same field of endeavor, the purpose of preventing the wind blowing to the wearer's eye as disclosed by Bolle' et al would have been recognized as an art pertinent art of Mage.

It would have been obvious, therefore, at the time the invention was made to a person having skill in the art to construct the eyeglasses frame, such as the one disclosed by Mage, with a pad being attached to the inner frame, such as disclosed by Bolle' et al for the purpose of preventing the wind blowing to the wearer's eye.
